Retaliation Prohibited

Retaliation:

Intimidation, threats, coercion, or discrimination, including charges against an individual for code of conduct violations that do not involve sex discrimination or sexual harassment, but arise out of the same facts or circumstances as a report or complaint of sex discrimination, or a report or formal complaint of sexual harassment, for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by title IX or this part, constitutes retaliation.

Complaints alleging retaliation may be filed according to the formal complaint investigation procedures for sex discrimination.

No district or other person may intimidate, threaten, coerce, or discriminate against any individual for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by title IX or this part, or because the individual has made a report or complaint, testified, assisted, or participated or refused to participate in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing under this part.

Retaliation Prohibited

- The exercise of rights protected under the First Amendment does not constitute retaliation prohibited by Title IX.
- Charging an individual with a code of conduct violation for making a materially false statement in bad faith in the course of a formal complaint investigation proceeding does not constitute retaliation, provided, however, that a determination regarding responsibility, alone, is not sufficient to conclude that any party made a materially false statement in bad faith.
- The district must keep confidential the identity of any individual who has made a report or complaint of sex discrimination, including any individual who has made a report or filed a formal complaint of sexual harassment, any complainant, any individual who has been reported to be the perpetrator of sex discrimination, any respondent, and any witness, except as may be permitted by the FERPA, as required by law, or to conduct any investigation, hearing, or judicial proceeding arising thereunder.

Informal Resolution

At any time during the formal complaint process and prior to reaching a determination regarding responsibility, the district may facilitate an informal resolution process, such as mediation, that does not involve a full investigation and determination of responsibility.

The informal resolution process cannot be used to resolve allegations that an employee sexually harassed a student.

Informal Resolution Process

Title IX Coordinator Appoints Facilitator

- The informal resolution process may be facilitated by a trained educational professional, consultant, or other individual selected by the Title IX Coordinator.

Facilitator Meets with Parties

- If the matter is resolved to the satisfaction of the parties, the facilitator shall document the nature of the complaint and the proposed resolution, have both parties sign the documentation and receive a copy, and forward it to the Title IX Coordinator.

Agreement Reached

- Within 20 days after the complaint is resolved in this manner, the Title IX Coordinator shall contact the complainant to determine if the resolution of the matter remains acceptable.

No Agreement

- If the matter is not resolved, or if the individual does not believe the resolution remains acceptable within 20 days after the informal resolution document is executed, the individual or the Title IX Coordinator may proceed with the formal complaint process.

Rights in the Informal Resolution Process

The parties are provided a written notice disclosing the allegations, the requirements of the informal resolution process, information on when it may preclude the parties from resuming a formal complaint arising from the same allegations

At any time prior to agreeing to a resolution, any party has the right to withdraw from the informal resolution process and resume the investigation of the formal complaint and be informed of any consequences resulting from participating in the informal resolution process

The parties voluntarily and in writing consent to the informal resolution process

Recordkeeping Requirements

Overview of the Title IX Formal Complaint and Investigation Process

On Demand Training: Section 2

KASB

Formal Complaint Investigation Process

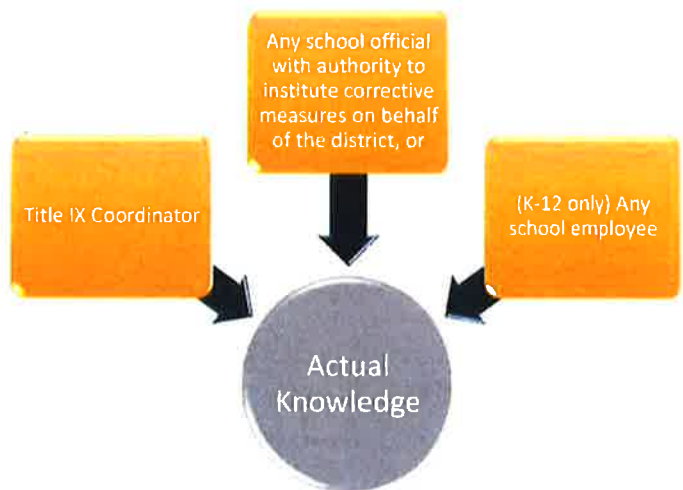

Report of Sexual Harassment

District must respond when it has "actual knowledge" of sexual harassment.

Actual knowledge:

Notice of sexual harassment, including claims of sexual harassment

Other school employees report claims to Title IX Coordinator.

Title IX Coordinator Contacts Complainant

- Response must not be “deliberately indifferent”
 - Clearly unreasonable in light of known circumstances
- Promptly contact complainant, and meet confidentially:
 1. To discuss availability of supportive measures,
 2. Consider the complainant’s wishes with respect to supportive measures,
 3. Inform the complainant of the availability of supportive measures with or without a formal complaint, and
 4. Explain the process for filing a formal complaint.
 - KASB Policy : 10 days, unless good cause for delay.
- Should respect complainant’s wishes regarding whether or not a school investigates, unless the Title IX Coordinator determines that signing a formal complaint over the wishes of the complainant is not clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances.

Offer Supportive Measures

- The district will treat the complainant and respondent equitably by offering supportive measures.
- These non-disciplinary and non-punitive measures will be offered as appropriate, as reasonably available, and without cost to the complainant or the respondent.
- Supportive measures are designed to restore or preserve equal access to the education program or activity without unreasonably burdening the other party.
- "Supportive Measures" shall include, but not be limited to, measures designed to protect the safety of all parties, to protect the district's educational environment, or to deter sexual harassment.
- The Title IX Coordinator is responsible for coordinating the effective implementation of supportive measures.

Examples of Supportive Measures

Supportive measures do not require a formal complaint. In some instances, where a formal complaint is not available, supportive measures can still be used to address alleged harassment

Remember, District response to alleged harassment cannot be deliberately indifferent. Supportive measures allow an avenue to respond without formal complaint.

counseling

extensions of deadlines or course related adjustments modifications of work or class schedules escort services or increased security and monitoring mutual restrictions on contact between the parties

changes in work locations

leaves of absence

Emergency Removal

A school may remove a respondent from the program or activity on an emergency basis if:

- Undertake an individualized safety and risk analysis
- Determine that an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any student or other individual justifies removal, and
 - Threat must arise from the allegations
- Respondent given notice and an opportunity to challenge the decision immediately following the removal.

Formal Complaint Filed

- At the time of filing a formal complaint, a complainant must be participating in or attempting to participate in the education program or activity of the District where the formal complaint is filed.
- A formal complaint may be filed with the Title IX Coordinator in person, by mail, by email, or by any other means that results in the Title IX Coordinator receiving the report.
- A formal complaint contains the complainant's physical or digital signature, or otherwise indicates that the complainant is the person filing the formal complaint (unless signed by the Title IX Coordinator).
- A complaint should be filed as soon as possible after the conduct occurs, but not later than 180 calendar days after the complainant becomes aware of the alleged violation, unless the conduct forming the basis for the complaint is ongoing.

Provide Notice of Complaint to Parties

Notice of the allegations of sexual harassment including sufficient details to prepare a response before any initial interview including:

The district's investigation procedures, including any informal resolution process;

A statement that the respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct and that a determination regarding responsibility will be made by the decision-maker at the conclusion of the investigation;

Notice to the parties they may have an advisor of their choice and may inspect and review any evidence; and

Notice to the parties of any provision in the district's code of conduct or policy that prohibits knowingly making false statements or knowingly submitting false information.

If, in the course of an investigation, the investigator decides to investigate allegations about the complainant or respondent that are not included in the notice initially provided, notice of the additional allegations shall be provided to known parties.

the identities of the parties involved, if known;

the conduct allegedly constituting sexual harassment; and the date and location of the alleged incident, if known.

Title IX Coordinator Responsibilities

- Supervise the supportive measures
- Oversee formal complaint investigation process
- Title IX Coordinator may dismiss a formal complaint that is filed when the facts alleged in the complaint
 - do not meet the definition of sexual harassment under Title IX, or
 - did not occur in the school's education program or activity against a person in the United States.
- Ensure compliance with record retention

Investigation Process

Decision-Making Process

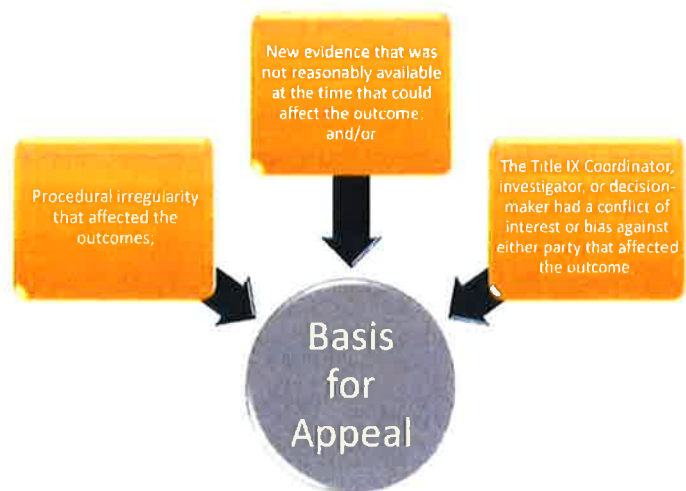

Appeals

The complainant or respondent may appeal the decision-maker's determination regarding responsibility or a dismissal of a formal complaint.

Request for appeal shall be made in writing within 10 days after the date of the written determination regarding responsibility.

Give both parties a reasonable, equal opportunity to submit a written statement in support of, or challenging, the outcome

Provide the written decision simultaneously to both parties

Don't forget the rights granted in the investigation process

- Ensure that the preponderance of the evidence burden of proof and the burden of gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination regarding responsibility rests on the district and not the parties;
- Provide an equal opportunity for the parties to present witnesses and evidence;
- Not restrict either party's ability to discuss the allegations under investigation or to gather and present relevant evidence;
- Allow the parties to be accompanied with an advisor of the party's choice;

On Demand Training: Section 4

KASB

Decision-Making Process

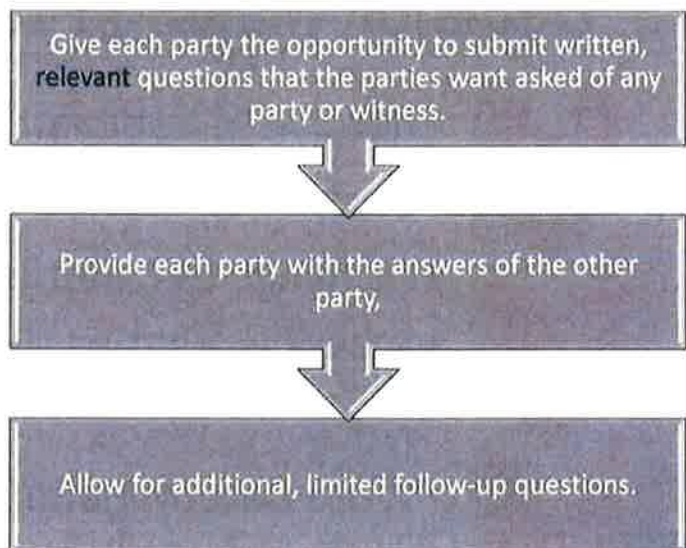

- Receive Investigator's Report
- Exchange of Questions (K-12)
- Schedule Hearing (Post-Secondary)
- Write Determination Regarding Responsibility

Exchange of Questions

In K-12 Schools, this exchange of questions takes the place of a live hearing on the sexual harassment complaint.

May exclude irrelevant questions, but must provide explanation to the party as to why question was not forwarded.

This does not replace the disciplinary hearing that would take place after a finding that sexual harassment has occurred, nor does it deprive the student of any rights granted in student discipline laws or policies.

Note for Live Hearings: Technology Issues

- K-12 does not require live hearings, but all post-secondary must conduct live hearings.
- If performing a hearing, it must be recorded. Be sure to work with district technology staff ahead of hearings to be prepared.
- Ensure the hearing space can accommodate equipment:
Access to outlets, sound quality, etc.

Written Determination Regarding Responsibility

Identify the allegations potentially constituting sexual harassment

Describe the procedural steps taken, including any notifications to the parties, site visits, methods used to gather evidence, and interviews

Include the findings of fact supporting the determination

Address any district policies and/or conduct rules which apply to the facts

Address each allegation and a resolution of the complaint including a determination regarding responsibility and the rationale therefor

The procedures and permissible bases for the complainant and/or respondent to appeal the determination

Provided to parties at the same time

ASB

Preponderance of the Evidence

Evidence which is more credible and convincing than that presented by the other party or which shows that the fact to be proven is more probable than not.

Relevance and Evidence

Relevance:

The tendency of a given item of evidence to prove or disprove one of the legal elements of the case, or to have probative value to make one of the elements of the case likelier or not.

Evidence:

Any of the material items or assertions of fact that may be submitted to a competent tribunal as a means of ascertaining the truth of any alleged matter of fact under investigation before it

- Look to initial complaint, review investigation report.
- Consider all information that supports either parties' position, or in contradiction to them.
- Try to focus investigation on the complaint, but if additional issues arise, provide parties with the required notice.
- Be cautious of any evidence related to the sexual predisposition or sexual history of the complainant.
- In questions exchanged by parties in lieu of hearing, all questions must be relevant.

Questions and evidence about the complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant, unless such questions and evidence about the complainant's prior sexual behavior are offered to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the conduct alleged by the complainant, or if the questions and evidence concern specific incidents of the complainant's prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and are offered to prove consent.

Sexual Predisposition of Complainant

Appeal Decision-Maker Responsibilities

Review the evidence gathered by the investigator, the investigator's report, and the original decision-maker's determination;

Notify both parties in writing of the filing of an appeal and give them a period of time after the appeal is filed to submit further evidence in writing;

Not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainant or respondent and receive the required training;

Issue a written decision and the rationale for the decision within 30 days after the appeal is filed;

Describe the result of the appeal and the rationale for the result in the decision; and

Provide the written decision simultaneously to both parties and to the Title IX Coordinator.

Remember Limited Bases for Appeal
